Take Me Out to Mt. Chestnut

(to the tune, “Take Me Out To the Ball Game”)

Take me out to Mt. Chestnut,
Take me out to the camp.
Stay in a dorm, tent or campers on jacks,
I’ll be sure that I always come back.
Oh, it’s hip hooray for the mud
hole,
And if it rains it’s okay!
Where we sing, have fun, and lost souls are won,
At Mt. Chestnut Camp!

The following poem was written anonymously and left on the bulletin board in the tabernacle during the 2009

Family Camp:

Memories of Mt. Chestnut Camp

On these grounds, I first heard His voice speak to me and call me to Himself

And I was sanctified (in the Grove).

On these grounds, I first knew the difference

He makes in my soul and I knew His peace

(in Dorm 2).

On these grounds, I first received a scripture promise from God

And His Word was personally relevant

(in the Shower House).

On these grounds, I first learned to trust Him

with personal concerns

And realized Jesus – is – the answer

(on the road by the dorms).

On these grounds, I first learned to respond to the enemy with thanksgiving to God

And knew the faithfulness of His forgiveness

(under the green tent).

On these grounds, I first ventured out of my safe little box

And discovered His adventure

(walking the east entrance road).

On these grounds, I first chose to serve God

without emotional motivation

And began to learn that love is a choice

(in the pavilion).
